

STRATEGIC AND DEPLOYMENT PLAN

Institute is having prospective plans created to provide guidance and direction towards institutional progress. These plans outline the vision, objective, strategies which are implemented by institute in order to achieve goals. The objective behind designing the perspective plans is to strengthen and provide a supportive framework to the organization to use when making decisions about future plans. Any good prospective plan begins with deep analysis of the current situation including organizations SWOT analysis. From this, the strategies and objectives to be achieved can be identified and achieved. The objectives and or goals set must be measurable and should align with institutional vision and mission. The plan should include:

- To frame the effective teaching learning process.
- To develop effective extension and outreach activities.
- To improve effective quality assurance and sustainability.
- To establish business incubation center.
- To strengthen and promote research among staff and student.
- To enhance Alumni engagement.
